2019/11/08

Hello Ariel! TshirtOS is a concept of 100% cotton T-shirt with LED display, microphone, speaker, camera and accelerometer on it. This high-tech T-shirt will be controlled via your smartphone. This gadget will be connected to the internet and able to show your tweets, capture pictures via its embedded camera, play music videos, record conversations, and many more. Developed by CuteCircuit together with Ballantine's, TshirtOS has no Kickstarter page and is spread only via their Facebook page. There are no price or specifications of this high-tech T-shirt yet, though we suppose it would use WiFi and Bluetooth connections to communicate with your smartphone. Thus if you need to prevent camera and microphone of this T-shirt from spotting you in the future, you can use TshirtOS jammer and protect your privacy from potential threat in the future.
